ELECTRIC VEHICLE CHARGING STATIONS

Ulster County recently installed Electric Vehicle (EV) charging stations at nine County facility parking lots, making it the largest municipal network of charging stations in the State of New York, including NYC. Now, 94% of all Ulster County employees have access to an EV charging station. The stations are to power the County fleet, as EVs start to replace aged-out County vehicles. The charging stations are also available for County employees and the public to use (non-commercial vehicles only), free of charge.

We hope County employees as well as the public consider electric vehicles and hybrid plug-ins (EVs) when purchasing new vehicles. Although EVs are often perceived as being 'too expensive' for the average income household, there are models that start at $99 per month to lease and $24,000 to own. Experts in the field speculate that much more affordable models will be introduced to the market soon. EV owners are also eligible for up to $7,500 in Federal tax credits.

For more information on the charging locations go to the following websites with electric vehicle charging station location maps:
