

“Trees for Tribs” planting volunteers needed

Volunteers are needed on Saturday, November 1, 2008 to plant approximately 300 native trees and shrubs at Hudson Highlands Gateway Park in the Town of Cortlandt. Trees are provided through the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) Hudson River Estuary Program’s “Trees for Tribs” initiative.

Participants will meet at 9:00 a.m. at the Doris Lee Drive Park Entrance. Volunteers should wear work clothes and bring gloves, shovels and water. Planting is expected to continue until 1 pm. However, participants do not need to stay for the duration. Please email Richardd@townofcortlandt.com if interested.
