

"Trees for Tribes" planting volunteers needed

Volunteers are needed on Saturday, MAY 16th, 2009 to plant approximately 200 native trees and shrubs at Hudson Highlands Gateway Park in the Town of Cortlandt.

Trees are provided through the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) Hudson River Estuary Program's "Trees for Tribes" initiative.

Participants will meet at 12: pm at the Doris Lee Drive Park Entrance. Volunteers should wear work clothes and bring gloves, shovels and water. Planting is expected to continue until 4 pm. However, participants do not need to stay for the duration.
