

Registration for the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name:

Email Address:

Phone No:

Brief Description of the Submission:

Approximate size:

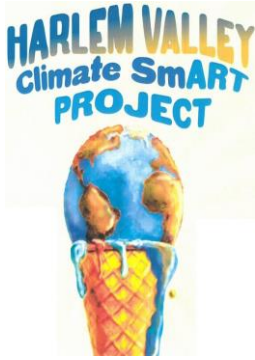

(please provide display framing and easel if needed)

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

Date:

Registration for the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name: Christina Maschke

Email Address: chrismileo@yahoo.com

Phone No: (203)565-9042

Brief Description of the Submission:

wildlife and nature prints of my original drawings

Approximate size: 11"x14" including mat (please provide display framing and easel if needed)

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

Christina Maschke

Date:

August 12, 2019

Registration for the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name: Jessica P. Anderson
 Email Address: a-as-in-anderson@aol.com or JessicaAnderson4@sunydutchess.edu
 Phone No: 845-546-2561

Brief Description of the Submission:

Climate change in the Hudson Valley has been predicted that by ~~2000~~ 2100 the Hudson River will see up to an 11-foot water rise. I want to recreate what that would look like with our current structures (train, houses, bridges)

Approximate size: 11x14 ~~with our current structures~~ (please provide display framing and easel if needed)

11x14 ~~with our current structures~~ w/ black table easel

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

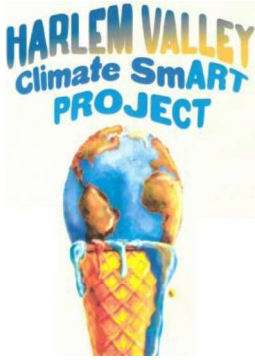

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

Jessica Anderson

Date:

7/21/19

Registration for the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name: Lonna Kelly/ArtEast

Email Address: arteast_lk@yahoo.com

Phone No: 845.855.1676

Brief Description of the Submission:

Liberty Under Water, Archival Digital Photograph

Approximate size: 20x24

(please provide display framing and easel if needed)

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

Lonna Kelly

Date:

9.10.2019

Registration for the Fall 2019
Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name: Linda Pennachio

Email Address: lpennachiofineart@gmail.com

Phone No: 845 282 0397

Brief Description of the Submission:

On the Edge watercolor

Approximate size:

(please provide display framing and easel if needed)

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

Linda Pennachio

Date:

9/6/19

September 6, 2019

Registration for the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name: john colantuono art east

Email Address: jfcolantuono@gmail.com

Phone No: 8458034156

Brief Description of the Submission:

Illustration/Cartoon of The Polar Icecap 2100 and TOUR BOAT

Approximate size: 24X20

(please provide display framing and easel if needed)

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an Intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

John UCOLANTUONO

Date:

AUGUST 13 2019

Registration for the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project

Artist's or Group's Name: Town of Dover Summer Campers

Email Address: recdirector@townofdoverny.us

Phone No:

Brief Description of the Submission:

Poster of handprints on pastoral scene "Lend a Hand to Become Climate Smart "

Approximate size: 6' x 8' poster

(please provide display framing and easel if needed)

By submitting artwork, photography or mixed media for display in the Fall 2019 Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project, I/we agree:

- To allow the collaborating municipalities to feature my/our work (including in media, properly credited) as part of an intermunicipal Climate Smart Communities exhibit that will be transported and displayed in each of the participating communities (namely, the Towns of Amenia, Dover and North East).
- To utilize this venue as an opportunity to raise awareness and educate others about climate change on humanity and our natural environment and to inspire increased personal responsibility and collective consciousness to take proactive and restorative actions to reduce or eliminate its negative impacts.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will endeavor to safeguard submissions but cannot be responsible for unintended damage or copying.
- The Harlem Valley Climate SmART Project committee will make final decisions about displaying submissions based on factors including, among others, size, transportability, and appropriateness of content.

Signature of artist or group representative:

Teri Ptasnick, Rec. Director

Date:

August 15, 2019