As a member of the Cornell Cooperative Extension of Chemung County, I, along with my fellow elected board members, work together to ensure that the organization reflects the goals and visions of Cornell Cooperative Extension. The Board is responsible for reviewing and outlining the association's functions and its programs, for setting personnel and finance policy, hires, supports and evaluates the executive director.

More specifically, we are responsible for reviewing the programming set forth by the Emergency Management Council in order to execute the Memorandum of Understanding. We work as liaisons to assist in the maintenance as well as the enhancement the relationship of the Association to county government and Cornell University.

As Associate Planner for Chemung County, I work closely with the Emergency Management Council and Cornell Cooperative Extension to identify potential programming opportunities that may join the goals already set forth by Chemung County government.

Respectfully Submitted,

Tanya McGee

Associate Planner I
