CO-CHAIR, TOWN OF MAMARONECK SUSTAINABILITY COLLABORATIVE

June Wallach

As a marketing professional, Ms. Wallach has created strategic communications and business development programs to provide non-profit organizations with resources that improve campaign effectiveness and leading brands with insights to discover opportunities tied to changing consumer lives. She has worked with clients in tech, automotive, financial services, retail and packaged goods businesses to reveal how consumer environmental attitudes and values throughout the world impact market behavior. Ms. Wallach has authored monthly columns in industry publications, mentored young professionals through Advertising Women of New York, served on the Board of Directors for the American Marketing Association in New York and is a Voting Member of the Marketing Hall of Fame Academy. Committed to sustainable living, Ms. Wallach volunteered as a citizen scientist with Save the Sound and is a member of the Town of Mamaroneck Sustainability Collaborative, where she helped establish the Larchmont-Mamaroneck Healthy Yards Project. She lives with her husband in Larchmont, enjoys swimming in the Long Island Sound, gardening, and taking steps to reduce their carbon footprint.
